Make your TiVO, UltimateTV, Xbox or GameCube do your bidding. We show you how to use these PCs in sheeps clothing to be king of your domain (or at least the area immediately surrounding your recliner). Like the plot from a circa 1950s sci-fi film, computerized look-alikes have surreptitiously replaced our VCRs, our video game consoles. . . even our televisions and stereos. While the advantages that these digital entertainment devices (DEDs) offer over their analog predecessors are immense - so is the potential for sensory and information overload. The PCs in our dens were only the forerunners of this computer revolution.
